

Problem Statement

Online Learning has been proven to decrease the focus and effectiveness of students compared to in-life learning.

Not only does this effectively decrease the quality of education but also normalizes it as if its something positive