Online Learning has been proven to decrease the focus and effectiveness of students compared to in-life learning